Roofing crews work in the elements, on tight timelines, and under constant safety scrutiny. Every day brings new conditions, new hazards, and new paperwork. Miss a form or inspection, and the penalties can be steep.

Fall Protection Plans That Don't Get Lost

Every roof job starts with a plan. Corfix keeps fall protection plans, roof access permits, and anchor inspections digital, so they're always current and easy to verify during audits or site visits.

Daily Roof and Equipment Inspections

Complete your ladder checks, guardrail inspections, and daily roof condition reports directly from the field. Every submission is time-stamped, stored, and ready when inspectors show up.

Certification Tracking That Stays Ahead

Working at heights, aerial lift, propane torch, and first aid certifications are tracked automatically. Supervisors get expiry alerts and can confirm worker qualifications before anyone steps on the roof.

Weather and Work Logs in One Place

Track weather delays, surface temperatures, and material deliveries in the same system you use for safety forms. Supervisors can pull daily summaries without digging through paper binders.

Timekeeping That Reinforces Safety

Crews can't clock out until required safety forms are complete and approved. That means no missing fall plans, no unsigned hazard assessments, and no surprises at inspection time.
